

Young Leonard Cloutier is shaping up to be quite a fisherman. In recent weeks he has been spotted numerous times, casting his rod in the Sturgeon River and when the Gazette's Larry Mitchell checked with Len last Thursday he had caught several jackfish again. So far this year Len has caught 33 jackfish, the biggest weighing in at about four pounds. Getting some pointers on how it is done is Roger LaFranchise.

Grandin development is given green light

A motion by Mayor Gibbon to adopt and approve an application by Grandin Shoppers Park Ltd., for a replat was passed 4-0 Monday night. (Councillors Kambourff, White and de Bruijn were not present). Registration of the replat will be subject to finalization of an agreement with St. Albert Developments. The action followed a recommendation of committee meeting May 25 when suggestions from GSP Ltd. were considered:

1. GSP Ltd. proceed with their development as recommended at April 5 council meeting, (not to exceed site coverage overdevelopment of 27 per cent).
2. For this purpose council should authorize registration of the replat on 6.28 acres to be split into three lots: one for 40,000 feet on the west side of the development as previously approved, one lot for the 2.2 acres (as is under consideration for a possible land swap) and one for the residue of the land.

3. That the matter of the 2.2 acres be left for consideration on an orderly basis by council and Grandin Shoppers Park Ltd.

A further resolution moved by the mayor authorizes the issuing of a building permit for the portion lot 28 under the present zoning was also carried 4-0.

Sky Diving Display an exciting feature at St. Albert Rodeo

A thrilling new feature of this year's rodeo will be a demonstration of sky diving by a team from the Edmonton Parachute Club. Three jumpers will be performing with the aid of a ground control man and pilot Keith Poirier in a Cessna 180.

Two members of the team are St. Albert men, John Bauman, who is with CBC and has an A license, and Rolly Burton, with AGT and holder of a C license. Rolly has been jumping for seven years and is an instructor with the Canadian Sport Parachuting Association. Both John and Rolly took part in a sky jumping display at a fly-in at Rocky Mountain House recently.

Three performances have been planned at the rodeo grounds, two on Saturday and one Sunday, depending, of course, on the weather. It will be somewhat tricky manoeuvring for the jumpers, who must avoid the street, the parking and mid-way area and the crowd area, to land in the rodeo arena. The jumpers will wear canisters on their legs dispensing colored smoke, so that spectators will be more easily able to follow their display.

John Bauman on ground control will be watching for last minute wind changes and ready to signal the aircraft when necessary. He will also give a commentary on the sky-diving display. On the first fly past the aircraft will drop a wind testing streamer, but wind can change direction within seconds, giving some element of danger, and there is little margin for error in landing at the site.

Land-fill site now in sight

Negotiations are nearing completion for a land fill garbage site near the alfalfa plant, which is described as eminently suitable by town engineer Jan Maandag. There is a deep excavation, about 40 feet, still being excavated on a four-acre site. The excavation for fill material will be continued for quite some time in the future. In addition the site is close to the town and Mr. Maandag has discussed delivery by residents as well as town staff with the owners. The department of health inspector was also favorably impressed with the site. ERPC and MD Sturgeon approval are being sought as quickly as possible, after which a public hearing will be held.

A motion to hire Mrs. Asenstrom of Calgary as Preventive Social Services Director at a salary of $9,000 on probation for one year was passed unanimously. Mayor Gibbon noted that the salary is at the top of the scale and also that other employees are on a three months probation. Councillor Lukay felt all employees were actually on probation all the time. Councillor Hudson would like council to have been involved with the interviews. "We spent a great deal of time on arena manager and concessionaire appointments," he said, "but here we are just looking at a name." Mr. O'Connor pointed out the PSS board had been involved. Councillor Russell asked what salary the last director had been on, and was told $725 per month.

A proposal from St. Albert Hotel Ltd. was referred to committee on June 14, on motion by Councillor Russell.

A request to operate ice cream bicycles in residential areas by Mr. Holt of Dickee Dee Bicycles was turned down.

The 21st annual report of the Edmonton Regional Planning Commission was received by council. This report was written by Mr. Woodroffe. Mayor Gibbon pointed out that on 1970 the ERPC levy on St. Albert was $3,300, in 1971 $3,600 was considered, but it ended up at $7,000. Council no longer has any control over the mighty provincial government's levy for this purpose, he concluded.

Youville Home is accredited

Sister F. Michaud, administrator of the Youville Home in St. Albert, announced Tuesday that the Home has been awarded accreditation by the Canadian Council of Hospital Accreditation.

Sister Machaud said a survey of the Home was carried out during the month of April by two members of the field staff of the Council, Dr. Easton of Edmonton and Mrs. I. McLean of Vancouver.

Sister Michaud was subsequently advised that the Youville Home had been awarded accreditation status. This denotes the highest standard of patient care and excellence of facilities.

It is believed that the Youville Home is among the first nursing homes in Canada to have been accredited.

District 4 Elects St. Albert Kinsmen

MR. BILL HITE

St. Albert Kinsmen Bill Hite was elected Vice-Governor for District 4 at the Kinsmen Convention last week.

The St. Albert Kinsmen and Kinettes, although relatively small in numbers, are undoubtedly among the outstanding clubs in District 4, which takes in all Alberta and a small portion of British Columbia.

At the District's annual convention last week, St. Albert Kinsmen Bill Hite was elected District Vice Governor, marking the second time in three years that St. Albert has formed the District executive. The office is a three-year commitment, and Mr. Hite will serve as District Governor next year, and Past-Governor the following year. Former District Governor, Don Sinclair of St. Albert Club is completing his term as past-governor at present. Mr. Hite who defeated a nominee from Medicine Hat Club in the election will now appoint the Kinsmen to serve with him on the district executive.

Also for the second time, the St. Albert Kinette Club, were awarded the Rose Bowl trophy at the convention, which goes to the club judged most outstanding in the District for their achievements as an auxiliary to their Kinsmen Club. Past President, Alda Myrthue accepted the trophy, on behalf of President Marie MacRae.

In the competition for the Service Shield, which goes to the club who has undertaken the most outstanding service project for the year, the St. Albert club were runners-up for their submission based on the ice plant for the arena and their minor hockey program.

Eighteen couples from St. Albert, slightly over half the membership, attended the convention in Red Deer June 4 and 5.

Lion president Glen Ward presents a cheque in the amount of $800 to Lion Bill Webber, Care chairman of district 37B. This amount represents half the proceeds realized in the Lions 1970 Walk-a-thon. A further $800 will be spent by the Lions right here in St. Albert on community projects. The donation to Care will be used to build a school in La Pita, Nicaragua.

An unidentified up-side-down cowboy is being taken for a ride during last year's St. Albert Rodeo. This year, Rodeo 110 features the top cowboys on the continent and promises thrills for everyone. Rodeo 110, presented by the St. Albert Kinsmen, June 18, 19 and 20.

... and he's out of the chute and off to a fine start... Bareback riding is one of the events featured at this year's St. Albert Rodeo 110, June 18, 19 and 20. Pictured is Ivan Davis on Moonshine during last year's rodeo. The top 100 cowboys in North-America have registered in six events for Rodeo 110. There will be three performances, Saturday afternoon, Saturday evening and Sunday afternoon.

Around Sturgeon

Prior to a cattle drive on Diamond Willow Ranch, owner and operator Peeewe Quintal tried his hand at riding and is presently recuperating from a trip through the air. Wishes for a speedy recovery go out to Peeewe, who suffered minor discomfort to his tail bone and side of his head. It is also rumored that Norm Murray is recovering from saddle sores. Is this a sign of a city cowboy?

We choose our barley malt as carefully as you choose your beer.

"Good enough" malt just isn't good enough for Calgary Export Lager Beer. So our brewmaster, who loves his beer, selects his barley malts with the devoted care of a true connoisseur. Are they properly crisp yet tender? Have they the right, slightly mellow flavour? Our brewmaster won't take no for an answer. He won't compromise on the ingredients that go into his beer, so you won't have to compromise on the flavour that pours out of every bottle of Calgary Export Lager. It's good. Always good. Because we're not satisfied with just "good enough".

Home Parade opens in St. Albert next Saturday

Lacombe Park sub-division in St. Albert is the site this year for Home Parade '71. 14 homes will be on display to the public.

Featuring 14 attractive homes by Edmonton's 10 top builders, Home Parade '71 opens in Lacombe Park in St. Albert June 13. Homes are open to the public for inspection daily from 1 - 10 p.m., including Sundays, through till July 11.

The emphasis this year is on low down payments, low monthly payments and moderate overall costs. Prospective buyers are looking at an average down payment of about $2,000 with the top total price being $28,000.

Visitors at the Home Parade will have an opportunity to enter two contests in which major prizes are offered.

The winner in one contest has the choice of either a $1,500 down payment on the new home of his choice or $1,000 in cash. A two week vacation for two in Hawaii is the prize offered in the second contest.

Both contests are designed to have entrants express detailed opinions on the homes. Home Parade officials stressed that they want people to inspect the homes closely and rate them as to dollar value, practicality and styling.

Parents of young children may leave their youngsters at a lot provided for their convenience.

Those not now in the market for a new home will enjoy visiting Home Parade '71 as they can pick up a wealth of decorating ideas. Each home is fully furnished in today's most popular styles.

Canada at Paris air show

A lot of Canadian jobs and many millions of taxpayers' dollars are riding on the success of Canada's sales efforts at the current Paris Air Show. Ottawans promoting the idea that Canadian industry can design, produce and market a total package for short take-off and landing air services (STOL). What won't be on display, however, and what the Canadians on the spot will do their best to disguise is the drama now going on behind scenes. Hawker Siddeley, the British parent of Canada's de Havilland, at this moment refuses to put up any more money for de Havilland's work on STOL aircraft. From the British company's viewpoint, this was a legitimate corporation decision. Hawker in Britain is concentrating its efforts on vertical take-off craft for the late 1970s, not on STOL for the early 1970s. But the turnaround is serious. Ottawa has based this country's aerospace program on STOL -- and it isn't going to let the idea die easily. The situation could hasten the formation of a new Canadian aerospace company with decision-making power lying firmly in Ottawa's hands, not foreign ones. When the show is over and everyone comes home, the prospect is for explosive action from Ottawa.

The fifteen percent

International Utilities Corp. is selected by Kenneth R. Grist, investment analyst in the institutional research department, Bongard, Leslie and Co., as an investment designed to produce, on average, a return of 15 per cent a year. Grist says why he selects this stock -- "The company has undergone a fundamental change which is clearly evident in its sources of earnings. . . In 1970, IU's earnings of $2.40 per share from operations gained 33 per cent. In the current year a further increase of 42 per cent from operations is anticipated." Grist says that IU's new shipping, trucking, land and manufacturing subsidiaries promise to continue the company's growth.

the Gazette REFLECTS

The continuing spiral of demands for goods and services may be leading Canadians into a life style which they cannot afford.

Whether this is the result of demands from the people, or whether the demands are being deliberately created by modern selling and communication techniques is not entirely clear. In the case of goods, we believe the demands are subtly created - who really needs a selection of 40 kinds of toothpaste or 77 laundry soap brands? Does modern advertising of luxury items such as huge power boats, shown with a sexy girl in a sexy bikini, sometimes seduce the consumer into purchasing something he really can't afford?

In the case of provincial and federal governments, do election promises in an attempt to be all things to all people, result in the ever-increasing fields of government services? Or do the taxpayers in fact demand the services? In our view we are getting too much government.

Similarly schools appear to be trying to be all things to all people - and school costs are getting out of hand. In this case we believe the demands have come more from the people. But can we afford it? Things like sewing machines and power tools could be left out of high schools at a considerable savings in education taxes. How about mothers teaching sewing and cooking in the homes?

The latest example of Alberta's Premier Strom in announcing government support to aid people to preserve their cultures seems to us an area where public funds should not be spent. Except in the case of our native peoples. Preservation of all the cultures of the peoples who have immigrated here will add immensely to the richness of our lives. But these people are capable of preserving their own cultures - the Ukrainians, Irish, Dutch, Chinese, all of them can, and we believe will, transmit their heritage from generation to generation, as they have been doing. It is not an area for public funds.

to the editor Canyon Spoiled

The Editor:

I am a student from Sir Alexander Mackenzie Elementary School who was visiting Jasper National Park recently on a field trip. I saw many beautiful and breathtaking sights. One sight that particularly stands out in my mind is Maligne Canyon with its moss covered limestone walls, spectacular waterfalls and its awe inspiring canyon.

Unfortunately some very selfish people have taken the liberty of destroying one of our natural beauties. Written on the walls of the canyon in bright orange fluorescent paint are these words: Austin O'Brien, Grade 70, Edmonton.

I hope these people are satisfied now that they have succeeded in spoiling the canyon, not only for us, but for the millions of tourists that flock to our National Parks each year.

Kim Nordholt.

Trust and Loan shares up

Trust and mortgage loan company stocks are back in fashion, and their prices recently topped the previous peak of 1965. Some reasons: A sharp decline in interest rates over the past year -- with the biggest drop for shorter terms. Margin of profit between interest paid on borrowings (savings deposits, guaranteed investment certificates and other term deposits) and interest earned on mortgages tends to widen as interest rates decline. It narrows when they rise, as was the case last year. Improved stock and bond market prices in recent months have boosted the market value of funds administered by trust companies -- thus increasing fees, which are based on market value. Real estate sales have picked up sharply in the past month or so. This is a fast-growing part of trust and loan company business.

The Beef is legitimate

Canada's major advertisers have good reason to be outraged at the frequency with which they are being hauled before the courts for allegedly misleading the public in their advertisements. The court proceedings are not really dealing with cases of breaking an accepted law. Instead, the trials are essentially fishing expeditions to help write the regulations that will in future become the law for the advertising business. The seriousness of the situation lies in the fact that neither the advertisers, nor their lawyers, nor the government know when an advertisement is misleading. Sections 33C and 33D of the Combines Investigation Act are vaguely worded and few guidelines exist. Hence the government's callous reliance on the courts to build up a body of interpretations and precedents. This situation may offer the lawyers and the courts a new bonanza -- but it is a destructive process for advertisers. When a firm is charged with misleading the public, its reputation (and its business) suffers whether it wins or loses the case. If an advertiser has, in fact, knowingly misled the public in its advertisements, then it should of course suffer the penalty. But when firms are brought before the court because the laws are so vague only the court can define whether there has been wrong-doing, then the firms are right to feel their reputations are being tampered with unfairly.

Conchologists -- the scientific name for people who collect seashells - have catalogued some 50,000 species of marine mollusks, the National Geographic Society says.

No delay granted Jasper Auto Parts

Following council's order for a clean-up of the Jasper Auto Parts premises, Messrs. Shatsky and Cohen met with committee on May 25, and requested permission to build an eight-foot fence extending from north front of the building for 154 feet, the east for 160 feet to the existing fence corner. Staff was asked to bring recommendations for development of the entire site. On May 27 a letter requested that the clean-up order be deferred until these recommendations were in and dealt with.

Planner John Woodroffe was present and stated "I strongly oppose any expansion whatsoever. Over the years there has been no real effort to make this site compatible with the area, and I recommend immediate action on the clean-up and no further expansion."

Mr. Woodroffe also pointed out that authority rests with the Edmonton Regional Planning Commission for rezoning from agricultural to industrial.

Councillors present agreed and a motion by Hudson that the notice for clean-up be continued with carried unanimously. The firm has been given until June 8, and failure to comply could mean a court appearance June 16. Maximum fine if convicted is $500.

No one attended the public hearing and the way is cleared for rezoning four lots between Madison and Mission from Commercial class 3 to Commercial class 1. No one was present for the hearing on the closing of the lane between 14 and 16 on Perron street, which will go to the Minister of Highways for approval.

Mr. R. Bridges and Mr. Faclole were present for an appointment on the walk-way closure between their properties on Gresham Blvd. Council had received a letter from the minister of highways stating:

Make wisdom your provision for the journey from youth to old age, for it is a more certain support than all other possessions.

ing that the walk-way is not a walk-way, but a utility lot and therefore comes under council's jurisdiction. Mayor Gibson pointed out that there had been no opposition to the closure when it was originally advertised. Later some people went to MLA Everitt and Highways Minister Taylor, and Taylor said no to the closing. A motion carried unanimously to close the sidewalk and lease the property to Messrs. Faclole and Bridges.

Councillor Hudson commented that it was unfortunate the people who went to the minister did not go through the proper channels. Therefore he said he had no alternative but to support the motion.

Sky Diving

A jumper reaches speeds of 120-190 miles per hour in vertical descent. He can also track horizontally at about 80 miles per hour "in free fall period a jumper can do everything an aircraft can, except fly up," said Mr. Bauman. Jumpers can "fly" in formation, move together and hold hands, pass batons and so on.

They get out at about 7,500 feet above ground, free fall for 30 seconds and open chutes at 2,500 feet. Rodeo fans are in for a fascinating display if the weatherman co-operates.

Around Town

St. Albert Kinsman held their annual Businessmen's Appreciation Night last Monday at the Purple Dude. Each member brought along a guest for the evening, a person who had assisted the club with their many projects throughout the year. About 70 attended the dinner at which Dr. J. W. Grant MacEwan was guest speaker. Newly elected district vice-governor Bill Hite was given a rousing cheer by the meeting. Mr. Hite paid special tribute to Ernie Jamison of the Gazette for his invaluable assistance in producing a special Kin issue of the Gazette which was used widely at the Red Deer convention over the weekend at which Mr. Hite was elected. The group welcomed as its visitors a 17 member delegation from the Vegreville club. Each Kin introduced his guest for the evening. The meeting heard several committee reports and Bob Forcand showed a number of slides taken at previous rodeos.

The St. Albert Breakfast Lions treated some 30 members of the Senior Citizens Club to a delightful day at the Alberta Game Farm last Friday. The group toured the park by bus and enjoyed the day immensely.

Namao District Plans Big Weekend

Residents of the Namao area have a fun weekend coming up. The Namao school and community league are holding their annual Ball Tournament and Horse Show on June 11 (Farmer's Day) and 13 (Sunday).

The ball tournament will feature 22 games on four diamonds, with play beginning at 9 a.m. on Friday. With almost every division in boy's baseball and girl's softball represented, there will be action to interest all. A large crowd of cheering fans would give the district's budding all-stars a big lift.

Enough entries have been received to ensure an especially interesting Horse Show on Sunday, starting at 10 a.m. and going all day. District riders will be performing in the show and gymnastics events at Namao school grounds.

A men's football game will cap the two-day celebrations, with the north correction line team pitted against the south. Harvey Ahn, manager of the south team assures us his squad is going to take the north to the cleaners. (How about that, Reg?).

The committee in charge of arrangements is hopeful that Namao district people will turn out in large numbers to support this two-day community event. Entertainment will be good and so will the food which the ladies will be serving from two concession booths.

Golf

Sturgeon Valley ladies golf club announces the following winners in the weekly golf draw: Total score draw—Vicki McGregor. Bogey hole number 3: High—Louise Griffith. Low—Tina Baumann. Prizes may be picked up at the pro-shop.

Winnifred Stewart addresses Hospital Auxilliary Ball

"Nothing gives me more satisfaction than to watch boys running the big off presses at the Industrial Training Centre for the handicapped," said Winnifred Stewart, speaking at the Sturgeon Hospital Auxilliary banquet in Morinville last Saturday evening. She went on to describe how it took months to teach the press foreman how to hold a pencil, 14 years ago, and the painstaking process of bringing him through to the grade 3 basic level. Mrs. Stewart also pointed out that the young men at the centre are their own mechanics and fully competent to run the heavy machinery running and in good repair.

She spoke also of their own son, whom they were told was one of three per cent of retarded children for whom nothing could be done, saying it had been a privilege to have this child, and to be drawn into working with retarded children. "We started with 25 children in the Winnifred Stewart School at the recreation centre in 1953, and we now have 428," said Mrs. Stewart, but our purpose and ideals have never changed. Our purpose is to train each child to reach his fullest potential, vocationally, academically, physically and socially. We have the happiness of the child always in mind - reaching his fullest potential brings happiness.

In closing Mrs. Stewart extended an invitation to her audience to come and visit the school. "It will make you happy to see the happiness of these children. They give 100 per cent - and none of us give 100 per cent." The distinguished guest speaker was given an especially hearty ovation at the conclusion of her moving address. Mrs. Rhonda Stapleton presented her with a bouquet of roses on behalf of the auxilliary.

Other head table guests were Mayor Stapleton of Morinville, and Mrs. Stapleton, Mr. Stewart, M.L.A. Keith Everitt and Mrs. Everitt, Mr. Bill Flynn, chairman of the hospital board and Mrs. Flynn, Mrs. Mary Campbell, president of the auxilliary, Mr. Roger Blackburn, board member and master of ceremonies, and Mrs. Blackburn, Administrator Gordon Townsend and Mrs. Townsend and Mrs. Dorothy Curtis.

Mrs. Campbell welcomed the guests on behalf of the auxilliary, who were sponsoring their second annual Blossom Banquet and Ball, and Mayor Stapleton brought greetings from the town, and spoke highly of the work of the ladies of the auxilliary in support of the hospital.

Mr. Flynn said the board would like to see the whole of the district solidly behind the Sturgeon Hospital, and the auxilliary. Mr. Everitt told the audience the provincial government was concerned about operational costs of hospitals, and that a freeze on active treatment hospital construction would probably continue, at least through the seventies, while more emphasis would be placed on preventive health care. Mrs. Stewart was introduced by Mrs. Curtis.

The crowd of 150 who attended the banquet in the recreation centre, was swelled considerably for the dance which followed, and the entire evening was thoroughly enjoyable and an undoubted success for the ladies of the Sturgeon Hospital Auxilliary.

Job hunt for grads

For this year's crop of graduates with degrees in law, business administration and engineering, it's been a disillusioning spring. According to one myth that died hard, these were the graduates who were remaining exceptions to the general tendency for job-hunting to get tougher and tougher for people with lots of education and little practical experience. Specialized business and professional graduates still have better chances of finding work than general degree holders, 40 per cent - 50 per cent of whom remain unemployed. But the specialists aren't finding quite the cushy jobs they have been expecting. They had been conditioned by tales of the golden mid-1960s, when any business administration graduate could (supposedly) walk out of college and into a high-status, high-salaried job. New graduates who insist on looking for jobs of that calibre may go on looking for a long time.

The annual club tour was held May 15. Members met at Alan Briggs at 10 a.m. and from there travelled to the Qwek farm where a judging competition was held, followed by a wiener roast for lunch. The afternoon was taken up with stops at Mitchell's, Doug Crozier's, Mickelsen's, Karen Crozier's, Henry Van De Villert's and Doug Tolmsa's where a short business meeting was held.

The club exams will be held June 9 at Namoo and Achievement Day will take place Saturday, June 19 at W. G. Boccock and Sons. Members are requested to be there at 10 a.m. A judging competition will take place at 11, and after a one hour break for lunch club judging will start at 1 p.m.

welcomed two guests, W. H. Jaschke, industrial development officer from St. Paul in charge of Zone 4 to which Morinville belongs, and Ralph Hamlett of the same branch who is leaving shortly to assume a similar post in Los Angeles, representing the Alberta Government. Two new members were also introduced, O'Neill Chevallier, and Vincent Curtis. In his speech Mr. Jaschke who was introduced by chairman Lou Calder stated that if enough local interest is shown a seminar in industrial development may be held in Morinville in the near future.

He also spoke on how a local group can help promote industrial development in a community such as Morinville. He said that the greatest advantage of forming a local industrial development committee, is the long range planning for local development and to make loans available to those industries who can establish locally. He noted that the most important part in local development in small rural communities is to pool resources and abilities to produce. He gave details as to how financial assistance can be made available interest free for a certain amount of time, under a new 1970 plan by Alberta Government Industrial and Tourism Dept.

Reports were received by various committees. Gaston Kremer, chairman of the social committee and 1971 delegate to the Alberta Chamber of Commerce convention held recently in Banff, gave his report.

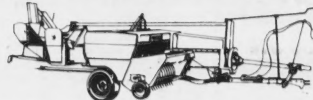

Don Found reported that the brochure was ready for the printers and had been approved by the town council. Tom Found, member of the public relations committee gave a report on the selection of the Allan McDonnell family of Riviere Qui Barre as the Board of Trade candidate for the Family Farm Award selection for the Morinville district.

Don Kotylak on behalf of the project committee, reported that the 1971 cleanup campaign for the town had met with good citizen participation. Some 29 old car bodies had been taken out of town and most of the citizens had co-operated fully.

The next meeting will take place on Sept. 7.

Citadel takes drama to schools

The Citadel-Theatre-on-Wheels-and-Wings has just concluded its third successful season - an eight-month tour of schools in Alberta and the Northwest Territories. And judging by the files filled with commendatory letters received by Olive Finland, general manager, school boards, principals, teachers and parents are more than ever convinced of the value of this type of participatory theatre as a stimulus to students in all areas of their work.

Mrs. Finland's figures indicate the touring company of the Citadel Theatre has, since last October, visited 94 communities, given 364 performances in 1,800 schools before an aggregate audience of 72,970 students. While doing so, the Citadel-on-Wheels travelled 9,500 land miles; the Citadel-on-Wings 3,545 air miles into the high Arctic outposts under the joint sponsorship of the Federal State Department and the Northwest Territorial government.

Jacqueline Waygood, a grade 11 student at Paul Kane can be found these days clerking at St. Albert Pharmacy. She is one of 24 local high school students participating in the student work experience program, a joint venture of the two St. Albert school districts. With Jacqueline is Evelyn Regimbald.

Local students participate in work experience program

L. H. McKinstry, head of the business education department of Paul Kane high school reports that 23 students from grades 11 and 12 at both high schools are presently involved in the student work experience program, a joint venture of both St. Albert school districts.

Mr. McKinstry and Brian Kupsch of St. Albert High are pleased with the way the program has been received by the local business community and said that the young people are gaining a good understanding of business practices.

Participants in the program, which will in all likelihood be repeated at the end of January, are presently working in various areas of sales and clerical work in the community.

Mr. McKinstry added that for several of the young people this is the first time they have been exposed to this sort of work.

Mr. McKinstry noted that the feed-back he has received from the young people involved indicates the program is a success from their point of view. "They really appreciate the chance that is being given to them," he said, adding that local students sometimes experience quite a bit of difficulty obtaining employment in Edmonton. "Jobs there are given to Edmonton students first," he said. "This puts the St. Albert kids quite a ways down the list."

The program is of a two-week duration.

The annual celebration of the St. Jean Baptiste society of St. Albert which was postponed from the usual day, June 24, on account of the nearness of that day to Her Majesty's jubilee will take place on Thursday next, July 14. There will be mass in the morning and a solree in the evening, with probably a picnic in the afternoon but this has not been finally arranged for yet.

Farmers average about $1.57 per hour for their labors in 1969 and the average investment for a farm to support a family of four is $200,000 in land, buildings and machinery.

To keep up with present food consumption rates farmers must raise 25,400 additional head of dairy cattle for each one million persons added to our population.

Frontier Daze... Don't miss it

Visitors to Morinville's Frontier Daze, June 19 and 20 will be faced with a tough decision: what to do and see first. Whatever they do, visitors are urged to pay a visit to Place Pigale, Saturday afternoon from 2 - 4.

A number of well known entertainers will be featured during the afternoon, including the famous Kick Line, vocalist Diane Dell, Jerry Josey and Hawaiian dancers.

There will be continuous entertainment at the bandshell and many sports events including fastball, a demolition race, chariot and chuckwagon racing.

The youngsters have not been forgotten. This year Frontier Daze will feature something brand new. The Morinville teens will be sponsoring a Kiddies Tent for young people up to eight years of age. Activities include fish pond, peanut scramble, penny toss, blind man's bluff, pin the tail on the donkey, bingo, darts, relay races and many others.

One of the highlights of this year's Frontier Daze is the Fashion Parade on Saturday afternoon at 2:30. Toni Found, who is co-or-minating this event has released the names of the judges in this competition. They are: Dorothy Rigney, well known 4H leader in the Bon Accord area, Marion Christenson, fashion co-ordinator, Simpson Sears, and Bernard Lavalee, a lawyer and native of Morinville.

Frontier Daze is fun for the whole family. There will be lots of good food, a midway, games, contests and entertainment. June 19 and 20 is the weekend that Morinville throws out the red carpet for all visitors. Don't be left out of the fun.

Morinville Guides and Brownies observe special evenings

By Rose Martel

The Guides recently held an appreciation night in the Legion Hall. Guests were their leaders and those who helped them during the year. Loran Brennies, senior guide, was master of ceremonies and welcomed the guests and members of the Mother's Local, sponsors of the guides and brownies.

Wendy James showed a colored film series taken while she and her family lived in Holland and Germany. Both the films and commentary provided very informative and interesting for all present.

Miss Brennies assisted by Guide Rachelle Sale, presented each guide and members of the executive, as well as all members in the community who had helped them with badge projects, with mementoes of appreciation.

Annette Lapointe, badge secretary reported that to date some 127 badges have been awarded in Morinville this term. The leaders were commended for their wonderful work with the girls. Speakers included Del Curtis, Linda Pifko and Joan James. The evening concluded with a lunch and refreshment, prepared and served by the 17 members of Morinville Community.

sioner, Brown Owl Zel McDonald, Mary Hittinger, Lois Steffes and Lorna McDonald. Those who received the Golden Hand award are Lynn Chalfoux, Pearl Logan Kimberly Rogers, Windy Quinn, Carmen Schalers and Kim Anetli.

Wayne Quintal marries Pauline Majeau

A pretty afternoon wedding was solemnized on May 14 in Onoway when Pauline Majeau, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hector Majeau of Gunn became the bride of Wayne Quintal of Calahoo. The groom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Hector Quintal.

Fresh flowers adorned the altar of St. Rose Lima Catholic church and Father Doherty officiated at the double ring ceremony.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was radiant in a gown of crepe satin with lace bodice and sleeves and a high neckline with a long lace train. She wore pearl earrings and carried red roses.

Attending the bride were Harriette Majeau, Gail Quintal, Vickie Quintal and Debbie Ostrom. They wore identical culotte outfits of green taffeta and chiffon. The necklines and sleeves were trimmed with white daisies and matching hats completed the ensembles.

The groom was attended by Eric Quintal, Harvey Majeau, Allen Majeau and Donald Majeau. The guests were ushered by Hector Majeau Jr. and Errol Quintal.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Majeau chose a light green dress with matching jacket. She wore gold roses encase.

The groom's mother wore a pink dress, trimmed in white. Her outfit was complemented with a gold rose corsage.

The wedding reception was held in Calahoo church, followed by a dance in the Stony Plain community hall. Out of town guests attending the wedding travelled from Alder Flats, Picardville, Edmonton and Nova Scotia.

Twelve guides and one leader were enrolled in the first Legal company, during ceremonies held May 19 at the first annual Mother and Daughter banquet. Approximately 30 mothers and girls attended the banquet.

Head table guests included Reverend Father Boissonette, Marion Brostrom, the area commissioner, and Pauline Vaugois, district commissioner. Miss Vaugois was instrumental in forming the Legal company.
